

TRANSFORMING WORK-LIFE HARMONY
WITH VIRTUAL STAFFING

Raquel Gomes

BIOGRAPHY

Raquel Gomes is the visionary founder and CEO of Stafi, a company revolutionizing the way law firms operate with virtual staffing solutions. Raised in Brazil, she was influenced by her father's entrepreneurial journey, which cultivated in her a strong work ethic and determination. Despite societal pressures, Raquel rejected the idea that women must choose between career success and family happiness.

Driven by her passion to help women achieve meaningful work-life balance, Raquel pursued a degree in psychology and later earned an MBA in the United States. Her journey through the demanding realms of the high-tech corporate world, coupled with her personal challenges balancing motherhood and a professional career, led to a pivotal realization: the landscape of work needed a transformation.

Stafi was born out of Raquel's own life experiences, struggles, and her desire to support women worldwide who faced the same challenge of balancing work and joy.

Stafi was founded to provide flexible staffing solutions tailored to modern professionals' needs. Through Stafi, Raquel is committed to reshaping traditional work standards and supporting women in their journey to excel professionally without sacrificing personal well-being.
